Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Reinhardt of Des Moines have issued invitations to their fifty wedding anniversary or golden wedding day. The beautiful golden engraved cards have on the top line 1871-1921, October 31st, reception to girls. Add these good people mean that they want to see their friends but do not want any gifts. Here's hoping they may live to the 100th anniversary.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mayer and Mrs. A. S. Reinhardt Was Married 50 Years on October 31.

Mayer and Mrs. A. S. Reinhardt two of the oldest, most highly respected and well known citizens of Des Moines celebrated their golden wedding—50th anniversary of their wedded life, at their home in this city, on Monday night, October 31.

Quite a large number of relatives and friends—young and old, gathered at an early hour and passed a most pleasant evening.

Many presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Reinhardt which they most highly appreciate.

An elaborate reception was given last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Reinhardt of Des Moines, Ark., celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The home was beautifully decorated in chrysanthemums and autumn leaves and in the dining room a wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. A lusterful yellow chrysanthemums and ferns was suspended over the cake with little streamers in each corner of the table. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nichols and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Brown received with their parents, Mrs. Laville Brown, a granddaughter, and the following friends invited in receiving the guests: Messrs. Hayes Kerin, E. B. Garland, Frank Norlett, W. W. Bethel, Misses Vaughan, Lotens and Greer and Mrs. Hillard Lacey. Among the out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Phil Thomas of Ottumwa; John D. Reinhardt of Crowley, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mayo, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Isaacs, Mrs. R. F. Drummond, Mrs. Minnie Reinhardt, Mrs. E. B. Terry, Miss Mary Elizabeth Terry, Miss Elizabeth Harshaw, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Matthews, Mrs. E. H. Wilson, Mrs. Hattie Matthews, all of Little Rock; Col. A. P. Yapp of Baxter; John R. Reinhardt of Okla.; Mrs. Annie Repton of Henry; Mrs. Minnie Short of Pryor Creek, Okla.; Capt. and Mrs. J. M. MacCall of DeVal's Bluff, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harville, Augusta.

"Sweet and strong with me
The best is yet to be
The best of life, for I know that this was mine
The time you're in the world
Was only a woman's chance
You're chosen, but had, I know that you are Not to be afraid."

The social event of the late autumn marked by its unusual beauty and interest to a wide circle of relatives and friends throughout the entire state was the elaborate reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Reinhardt on Monday evening October thirty first, the occasion being the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, which was solemnized in the hospitable home of the bride of true traditional "be fo' de war" type in the year eighteen seventy-one.

The handsome home was transformed in a matter of rich fall loveliness for this never to be forgotten occasion of the "Golden Wedding" of this popular and much loved couple, Mr. and Mrs. Reinhardt who received their guests in the spacious parlor gorgeous, in its dreeseries of anklst shades outlining the entrance, forming a frieze around the entire Reception Suite. Above an improvised arch of gold stood out in quiet relief proclaiming their own story the numbers "1871-1921".

The entire lower floor was decorated most artistically—yellow chrysanthemums, and autumn leaves in shades of gold, and bouquets of loved ones throughout the state, carried out the color motif and were arranged in tall vases or baskets of splendor.

The Bridal Table set in the conservatory at the extreme of the reception rooms was exquisite in every detail. The table was resplendent with an imported lace cloth which was adorned by a wedding cake surmounted by a miniature bride and groom; gracefully surrounding this were chrysanthemums and fern streamers of white forming an immense battery of gold. Small blue shaded decorations seemed only forming a pathway to each corner of the table where a reserved waif of a baby's daintiness to the hostess seem-

The many beautiful guests in relief against the background of Marie Antoinette baskets of chrysanthemums, and autumn shrubbery.

Mrs. Reinhardt wore a gown of black crepe, a band made collar of venetian lace from her wedding dress, her wedding handkerchief of darned bobbinet, her only ornament an inlaid cameo brooch, completed the costume of the happy bride of fifty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nichols and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Brown received with their Mother and Father, Mrs. Nichols was charming in a costume of midnight blue glazed taffets with an overdress of beaded chiffon. Mrs. Guy Brown was elegantly attired in a becoming gown of black tulle over satin, fashioned with an elongated vestee of corded crepe. Mrs. Laville Brown, a recent bride wore a stunning frock of sapphire, most effectively beaded in Oriental design, the skirt draped to show an uneven hemline. She is the granddaughter of the honored pair and is gifted with a rare sweet soprano voice.

A very unique feature of the evening was an original program directed by Mrs. E. B. Garland. A carefully written ballad composed for the occasion was given by Miss Hallie Vaughan. Much merriment attended the registering of the guests, this feature in charge of Mrs. Austin Flinn.

Assisting in caring for the guests throughout the house were a roster of matrons, Mess. James Hayes Kerin, E. B. Garland, Frank Norlett and W. W. Bethel.

Assisting in the dining room where at a late hour, cream cakes of gold, with individual cakes of the same shade, were a bevy of charming maids, Misses Vaughan, Loretz and Greer chaperoned by Mrs. Hillard Lacey.

Many were the gifts of gold, and other useful and beautiful articles, gorgeous offerings of the florists art, hundreds of congratulatory letters and cablegrams attest the love and popularity of this couple.

Out of town guests for this occasion were: Mrs. Phil Thomas, Channah, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Reinhardt, Crowley, Ark.; and Mrs. R. W. Mayo, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Isaacs, Mrs. R. F. Drummond, Mrs. Minnie Reinhardt, Mrs. E. B. Terry, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Terry, Miss Elizabeth Harshaw, Dr. and Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. E. H. Wilson, Mrs. Hattie Matthews, all of Little Rock, Ark.; Col. A. P. Yapp, Mrs. John R. Reinhardt, Okla.; Mrs. Annie Repton, Basile, Ark.; Mrs. Minnie Short, Pryor Creek, Okla.; Capt. and Mrs. J. M. MacCall DeVal's Bluff, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harville, Augusta, Ark.

In too words of the song left the lovers of fifty years.

"By the dear old road we came
Was mine, yours, and me
Thinking of the days gone
Will be "Dance with me
You were never really apart
That you know this one year
Soil said "Dance with me
They're not, they're not
Is any more to come we are
Then how long will you stay
And how long will you stay
A day passed in our lives
Dance"

Put on your white, white, white
Put on your white, white, white

While I look out from my window
And before that bright sun
We'll be to the Open our hearts
She and on the same
With her own
And they're to the
A song she had
Where for
The birds were
And the stars
As they passed
And as we
This dear

Sad Death of a Brother of Only
Six Weeks

Following

With a heavy heart we would drop a tear to the memory of Shuford Reinhardt, one of Des Arc's most noble young men, who, after an illness of only a few days with pneumonia answered the call of the death angel at 2 o'clock, Monday morning March 18th, at the family home, surrounded by loved ones and friends, who were touched with the bitter cup of sorrow.

Shuford was a young man with a heart of gold. He was one of natures noblemen in its truest sense—brave, generous, manly. He was born in this city and at the time of his death was in his 24th year. It is sad at any time to stand beside the bed of the dying and watch life's ebbing tide drifting the loved one slowly, perhaps, but surely into the great ocean of eternity, but when there comes whispering from parched lips—"Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me, Thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me," it brings a balm to the wounded heart. Thus closed the life of this young man. Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church, conducted by Revs. Bingham and Rainey, after which accompanied by a large concourse of friends and relatives the remains were laid to rest in Lakeside Cemetery.

To the broken hearted father, mother and sisters, who sit in sorrow where his foot steps shall never again find echo, we extend our sincere sympathy. When they have drained the cup may the peace that passeth all understanding come to them. Each death is a link that binds us to the beyond, so let us live and do that when our time comes we will be found a good link in the endless chain of the plan of nature. We extend our deepest sympathy to all bereaved.

The whole community was plunged into grief Monday morning on hearing of the death of Shuford Reinhardt after an illness of nine days.

Every one who knew him and everybody loved him. He was born in Des Arc, September 6, 1887, and was therefore in the middle of his twenty-fifth year; all of which time he had spent here and in such a way as to endear him to old and young. Even strangers meeting him were impressed with his frank manliness. Never was there a more genial spirit, nor yet a truer, cleaner, more upright life among us.

But those who knew him most intimately were most impressed with his reverence for and loyalty to his parents, a trait that deserves the widest emulation among our young people. Not less marked was his devotion to his sisters; and this alone would have commended him to the regard of us all.

He will be sorely missed. The community cannot afford the loss of such young men as Shuford Reinhardt. It is upon men of his kind that the future of our country must depend if it is to continue worthy of a place among the best. He was indeed of "the salt of the earth," young as he was.

Why such as he should be taken when we need them so much is a question that finds no answer save that the wisdom of God is capable of handling problems that are insoluble to man. We can only say therefore: His will be done.

The remains were laid to rest in Lake Side cemetery Tuesday evening, followed by a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends. The Guidon extends its profound sympathy to the bereaved ones.

TURNS ANOTHER MILE STONE IN LIFE.

Pleasant Evening at Home on His 74th Birthday.

A. S. REINHARDT,

Mayor of Des Arc,

one of Prairie county's oldest and most respected citizens, 41 years a resident of this city, 18 years sheriff of this county, a civil war veteran, a christian gentleman, passed the 74th mile stone of his life at his home here on Tuesday evening Jan. 5th, 1921.

While sitting at his own fire-side in company and alone with his life companion, musing of other days, the stillness was hushed when the soft sweet voices of seventeen ladies was heard on the outside, and a knock at the door asking admittance, was answered by the presence of Mr. Reinhardt who threw the doors to his palatial home open and bid them welcome.

The ladies had gathered to pay tribute in honor of Mr. Reinhardt on this occasion, each presenting him with a nice remembrance of his 74th birthday.

After a few hours spent in social chats, the ladies returned to their respective homes, realizing they had made another soul happy.

Christianity, writes as follows: "The Saviour in Christian art, the Lord of the youthful youth, beardless, joyous, the exclusive conception of Christ is of mature, full-formed, calm complexion, dark eyes, his face, like his sonorous voice, and gentle, quiet, long-suffering, the manhood with the attributes of God." "After the triumph of Iconoclasm," says the same author, "gradually misery and pain became the noblest, man rather than display the mercy of God. Painting vied with the rude sculpture which arose in many quarters (sculpture more often in wood than in stone), and by the red streaming blood, and the more vivid expression of pain in the convulsed limbs, deepened the effect; till, at last, that most hideous and repulsive object, the painted crucifix, was offered to the groaning worship of mankind."

The Rev. R. Welsh, in his "Essay on Ancient Coins, Medals, and Gems, as Illustrating the Progress of Christianity in the Early Ages," describes an ancient medal which bears one of the earliest portraits of Christ: This is a kind of medal or tessera of metal, representing Christ as he is described in the apocryphal letter of Lentulus to the Roman Senate. It has a head of Christ, the hair parted over the forehead, covering the ears, and falling over the shoulders; the shape is long, the beard short and thin. It has the name of Jesus in Hebrew, and has not the nimbus or halo about the head. On the reverse is an inscription: "Saviour of mankind of caohold them, actor, of which the sense seems to be. Statements, indicated what took place is made man." This may return (St. Luke ii. 4, 20).

The article is taken from the Ark. Democrat dated Jan. 6, 1902, relative to the sad death of Mrs. T. J. Alison, (nee Reinhardt) who died at Little Rock on the above date, viz:

"One of the saddest deaths it ever the duty of "The Democrat" to record is that of Mrs. Katherine Alison, the beloved wife of Mr. T. Jeffersonson Alison, which occurred at 1 o'clock this afternoon at St. Vincent's Infirmary, after an illness of a month. The funeral will be held at 10 a. m. Wednesday from the residence of Dr. B. W. Flinn, at 1323 Center street.

A Tribute of Respect.

On the 6th of January 1902, the death angel visited the home of our friend, Mr. Jefferson Allison, and robbed him of his beautiful, beloved bride, Kate Reinhardt Allison.

Scarcely had the sound of the wedding bells died on the air, when the funeral dirge was heard. Only six weeks ago we saw her in her beautiful bridal robes at the marriage altar in our church. Such a happy scene, and it seemed that life was a joy and happiness for the young husband and his fair wife.

When the news came over the wires, "Kate is dead," the whole town was grief stricken, for Kate had spent her life in Des Arc and was much loved by all.

Out of our class at school, she was the first called away and we grieve for our loved friend, Kate, as her schoolmates called her, was beautiful in features, loving in disposition and possessed many charms that made her a favorite with all. She was an affectionate daughter, a loving sister, a most devoted class mate and a happy wife. No pen can depict the deep grief and great sorrow of the devoted and heart-broken husband, who so sadly mourns his great loss; nor can the grief stricken parents who mourn the loss of their darling Kate; nor the deep grief of the brother and sisters because their sweet sister is no more.

Papa, mamma, brother, sisters and husband, yours is a heart ache that no words of consolation from friends can heal. Yet we who have seen called on to pass through the trial of Christ, which are preserved in the opening chapters of St. Luke, and which have become the chief hymns of the Christian church. The Magnificat, or Song of Mary, is based on Hannah's Song of Thanksgiving, when she offered Samuel to God (1 Sam. ii. 1-9), but it is richly fraught with phrases taken from the whole range of Old Testament poetry. Mary stayed before the birth of John the Baptist. Mary had her joy overcast by a great trial, the tie of betrothal was as sacred as Mary's apparent violation of that bond adulteress. But Joseph was no hard man, giving her a bill of divorces in a dream, the holy injunction ahead.

One of the saddest deaths it was ever the duty of "The Democrat" to record is that of Mrs. Katherine Allison, the beloved wife of Mr. T. Jefferson Allison, which occurred at 1 o'clock this afternoon at St. Vincent's Infirmary, after an illness of a month. The funeral will be held at 10 a. m. Wednesday from the residence of Dr. B. W. Fhan, at 1323 Center street.

The deceased was the daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. A. S. Reinhardt of Des Arc, Prairie county, who have been her almost constant attendant during her illness. Her death, following so soon upon her happy wedding to Mr. Jefferson Allison, one of the most popular commercial travelers of this city, comes as a blow almost too severe to be borne, and the deepest and most heartfelt sympathies of all are extended to the afflicted ones in their saddest of sad bereavements. She was well known in Little Rock to a host of friends, to whom she had endeared herself by her charms of head and heart. Her wedding occurred at the Presbyterian Church in Des Arc, at 8:30 p. m. November 27, and was one of the most brilliant nuptial events ever celebrated in that city. They have resided since December 5 at the residence of Dr. Fhan.—Democrat.

This most sad event has cast a gloom over our town that hangs like a pall refusing to be lifted. Born and raised here, by her sweet disposition and charming ways, Mrs. Allison had a circle of friends and admirers that comprised almost the entire community. As a friend of our childhood, a companion at school in the same class for years, we feel a personal loss. One of our best friends, in whose counsel we placed much confidence has gone. Our only comfort lies in the strong hope that she is happier than we who mourn her absence. Here below. Our deepest sympathy is with the heartbroken husband and sorrowing relatives.

Bethell and Charlie Brown.

Miss Lertloe Baugh assisted by her sister Miss Minnie Kate rendered a beautiful solo just before the arrival of the wedding party which came in carriages from the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Reinhardt at 8:25. Promptly at 8:30 to the strains of that sweet creation of Mendelssohn's, played by Miss Lertloe Baugh, the bridal party entered the church. The ladies advanced up the left aisle in couples as follows.

Misses Stella Gates and Bertha Vaughan, Misses Minnie Lynch and Emma Harris, Misses Mintia Watkins and Mary Harshaw, and last was the beautiful bride, attended by her sister Miss Lillie Reinhardt. Opposite them, the gentleman of the party moved up the right aisle in this order:

Messrs. John Weaver and Claude Judson, Henry Bethell and Labou Hinga, John Gatewood and Fred Rucker, last the couple being the groom and first groomsmen, Walter Woods. On reaching the arch of cedar in front of the altar, the party formed two lines, facing each other, at the foot of which facades the altar stood the contracting parties. Rev. Hammock in the impressive ring ceremony made the two husband and wife, during which the organist played softly a beautiful lesson.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the party was led by the bride and groom who advanced through the arch and turning to the left, crossed the floor and out the left aisle, followed by the attendants in this order:

Mr. Woods and Miss Reinhardt, Mr. Rucker and Miss Harshaw, Mr. Gatewood and Miss Watkins, Mr. Bethell and Miss Lynch, Mr. Hinson and Miss Harris, Mr. Weaver and Miss Gates, Mr. Judson and Miss Vaughan. As soon as the party left the church they entered carriages and were driven to the home of Mr. A. S. Reinhardt where the happy bride and groom held a formal reception attended by the entire wedding party after which the party mingled with the guests and spent a delightful evening.

At 9:30, the wedding party was conducted to the dining room where they were served with a dainty supper and indulged in much fun, cutting the wedding cake. On their return to the parlors the guests present were invited to take their places in the dining room. With music, song, gay conversation and repartee, the hours passed quickly and all too soon came the moment to leave one of the most pleasant occasions we ever attended.

In commenting on this brilliant event, it can be said, that it was one of the most perfectly arranged and executed affairs in the history of Des Arc. The costumes of the ladies were pure white and contrasted well with the full dress garments of the gentlemen.

The ladies, except the bride, carried bouquets, large chrysanthemum, and each gentleman wore a flower from the bride's large and lovely bouquet. Perfect order prevailed from the entrance to the exit of bridal party, on the part of audience, and from beginning to end nothing occurred to prevent it being a social event of perfect success.

Papa, mamma, brother, sisters and husband, yours is a heart ache that no words of consolation from friends can heal. Yet we who have seen called on to pass through of Christ, who are preserved in the opening chapters of St. Luke, and which have become the chief hymns of the Christian church. The Magnificat, or Song of Mary, is based on Hannah's Song of Thanksgiving, when she offered Samuel to God (1 Sam. ii. 1-9), but it is richly fraught with phrases taken from the whole range of Old Testament poetry. Mary stayed before the birth of John the Baptist, Mary had her joy overcast by a law, the tie of betrothal was as Mary's apparent violation of that adulteress. But Joseph was no hanging her a bill of divorces in a dream, the holy injunction ahead.

One of the saddest deaths it was ever the duty of "The Democrat" to record is that of Mrs. Katherine Allison, the beloved wife of Mr. T. Jefferson Allison, which occurred at 1 o'clock this afternoon at St. Vincent's Infirmary, after an illness of a month. The funeral will be held at 10 a. m. Wednesday from the residence of Dr. B. W. Funn, at 1523 Center street.

The deceased was the daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. A. S. Reinhardt of Des Arc, Prairie county, who have been her almost constant attendants during her illness. Her death, following so soon upon her happy wedding to Mr. Jefferson Allison, one of the most popular commercial travelers of this city, comes as a blow almost too severe to be borne, and the deepest and most heartfelt sympathies of all are extended to the afflicted ones in their saddest of bereavements. She was well known in Little Rock to a host of friends, to whom she had endeared herself by her charms of head and heart. Her wedding occurred at the Presbyterian Church in Des Arc, at 8:30 p. m. November 27, and was one of the most brilliant nuptial events ever celebrated in that city. They have resided since December 5 a.

REINHARDT—ALISON.

The consummation of a long anticipated event took place in the marriage of Miss Katharine Reinhardt of this place to Mr. Jefferson Allison of Little Rock last night. The place of the happy occasion was at the Presbyterian church and the officiating minister Rev. R. M. Hammock. The church was beautifully decorated with cedar, ivy and flowers.

The seats were decorated along the aisles with broad white ribbon which served as a gate to each pew to prevent any interference to the entrance of the bridal party. The church was filled with admiring friends and relatives under the care of the two ushers, Messrs. Erwin Bethell and Charlie Brown.

Miss Lorraine Baugh assisted by her sister Miss Minnie Kate rendered a beautiful solo just before the arrival of the wedding party which came in carriages from the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Reinhardt at 8:25. Promptly at 8:30 to the strains of that sweet creation of Mendelssohn's, played by Miss Lorraine Baugh, the bridal party entered the church. The ladies advanced up the left aisle in couples as follows.

Misses Stella Gates and Bertha Vaughan, Misses Minnie Lynch and Emma Harris, Misses Mintie Watkins and Mary Harshaw, and last was the beautiful bride, attended by her sister Miss Lillie Reinhardt. Opposite them, the gentleman of the party moved up the right aisle in this order:

Messrs. John Weaver and Claude Judson, Henry Bethell and Labon Hinson, John Gatewood and Fred Ricker, last the couple being the groom and first groomsmen, Walter Woods. On reaching the arch of cedar in front of the altar party formed two lines, facing each other, at the foot of which facades the altar stood the contracting parties. Rev. Hammock in the impressive ring ceremony made the two husband and wife, during which the organist played softly a beautiful selection.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the party was led by the bride and groom who advanced through the arch and turning to the left, crossed the floor and out the left aisle, followed by the attendants in this order:

Mr. Woods and Miss Reinhardt, Mr. Rucker and Miss Harshaw, Mr. Gatewood and Miss Watkins, Mr. Bethell and Miss Lynch, Mr. Hinson and Miss Harris, Mr. Weaver and Miss Gates, Mr. Judson and Miss Vaughan. As soon as the party left the church they entered carriages and were driven to the home of Mr. A. S. Reinhardt where the happy bride and groom held a formal reception attended by the entire wedding party after which the party mingled with the guests and spent a delightful evening.

At 9:30, the wedding party was conducted to the dining room where they were served with a dainty supper and indulged in much fun, cutting the wedding cake. On their return to the parlors the guests present were invited to take their places in the dining room. With music, song, gay conversation and repartee, the hours passed quickly and all too soon came the moment to leave one of the most pleasant occasions we ever attended.

In commenting on this brilliant event, it can be said, that it was one of the most perfectly arranged and executed affairs in the history of Des Arc. The costumes of the ladies were pure white and contrasted well with the full dress garments of the gentlemen.

The ladies, except the bride, carried bouquets, large chrysanthemums, and each gentleman wore a flower from the bride's large and lovely bouquet. Perfect order prevailed from the entrance to the exit of the bridal party, on the part of audience, and from beginning to end nothing occurred to prevent it being a social event of perfect success.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Hare, a leading druggist of Belleville O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years." You know why? Most diseases begin in disorder of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys, and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Fits new life and vigor into weak, sickly, rundown man or woman. Price 50 cent. Sold by The Racket Store.
